These insurances protect the owners' commercial interest on the vessel. It includes cover for Total loss, Partial losses, and collision liabilities. Further to this, extensions to cover can include Loss of Hire which covers the loss of income following physical damage to the vessel. This allows for owners to protect cash flow in the event of a casualty.

The Marine War product allows owners to protect their interest from War perils that have come about through globalisation and the need for increased trade worldwide. War insurance includes cover for loss or damage to Hull or freight interests, not limited to but including Total loss, Partial losses, War P&I, detention, and collision liabilities. Trading within certain parts of the world will attract additional premiums in line with JWC listed areas and having protected more ships than any other company with over 16,000 successfully completed armed transits, plus the largest global support footprint and number of maritime security personnel across the globe, Ambrey can guide you through this process.
